

Science Care[™]

Whole Body Donation for Medical Research, Education and Training

Presented by Tiffany Welton, Community Relations Manager for Science Care

Overview

Differences between Organ Donation for Transplant, Medical School Donation, and Whole Body Donation for Research

How to Register

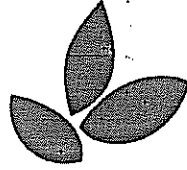

Process of Donation

HOPE PROGRAM

Rule-Outs for Donation

Research

Giving Back to the Community

Science Care™

Mission:

Science Care sets the standard of excellence for the donation and responsible use of human tissue for medical research, training and professional education.

- We educate the public about the benefits of body donation
- We facilitate the placement of human tissue with qualified medical researchers and educators
- We offer medical training support to ensure the safety of our clients and respect for donors
- We provide accredited continuing medical education to improve clinical practice and the quality of health care delivery

Vision:

Science Care's vision is to be the world's leading whole body donor program advancing medical science to improve the quality of life for people everywhere.

Values:

- Superior quality and professional service to our clients
- Clean, safe and organized in everything we do
 - Work together, succeed as a team
 - Adherence to high ethical standards
 - Honor the intent of the donation
 - Build and maintain quality relationships
- Dignity, compassion and respect for donors and their families
- Making a difference in the world by contributing to improvements in healthcare

Philosophy and Principles:

As a whole body donor program, Science Care is dependent upon the generosity of families who have experienced the sudden, unexpected and tragic loss of a loved one. When it comes to organ or corneal donation, transplantation is always the first option due to its inherent life-saving nature. We conceptually view whole body donation as a lasting memorial to the deceased. It is our goal to serve the public in a professional manner and to provide a continuum for family and friends of the deceased by maintaining that person's memory, while at the same time improving the quality of life for others.

For more information, please visit www.sciencecare.com or call us 24 hours a day 7 days a week at 800.417.3747.